

Business Operations – Student Worker (m/f/d)

RIIICO · Starting September 2021 · Aachen or Düsseldorf

We are RIIICO, an RWTH-supported arising startup trusted by companies like Siemens and Volkswagen. Our startup is in an early stage of a global journey. At RIIICO we build an AI-backed software product around fully automatic object detection in 3d scans. We strive to revolutionize the planning workflow in various industries with a ton of fascinating use-cases and want YOU to extend our team.

The Role

As Business Operations Student Worker you support our founders in running the daily business of RIIICO. This includes working with global VCs, our HR and controlling affairs.

Your Tasks

- You support our founders in onboarding new colleagues to RIIICO
- You manage daily operations in controlling and financial forecasting
- You work together with the founders on fundraising and relations to VCs

What We Offer

- A highly motivated team of technology-oriented minds
- Personal career opportunities in the development process of a modern deep-tech startup
- A pleasant workplace in the center of the startup-incubator
- Flexible working times and an appealing salary
- Joyful team activities

Your Skills

- You are an all-rounder and you learn fast
- You can work independently, well structured and manage tasks with a deadline efficiently
- You are enrolled in a business or similar study program (Bachelor / Master)
- You have at least basic MS Office skills
- You speak English and German fluently

Your Non-Plus Ultra

- You have already first experience in HR, controlling or investor relations
